L'Amy America

L'Amy America introduces new pieces from its Nicole Miller Resort collection. Featuring two new optical styles, the acetate designs feature translucent light colors and modern shapes. Translucent temples can also be seen with two tone metal detailing either on the core wire or on the temple. Style Cassis features a feminine browline and an upswept shape. The temples are adorned with a vertical striped pattern and a complementary pop of color. Offering a translucent colored front and a multicolored pattern on the temples, style Laguna has a teacup shape and a metal accent on the hinge break.
