

SUNGLASSES

THE SHAPE OF THINGS

The allure of different eyewear shapes is most prevalent in sunglasses. Pushing the boundaries of expectation with curves, angles, and edges that transform classic silhouettes into couture shapes, these sun styles are sure to steal the spotlight.

BY SHEENA TAFF

1. WOOW Sunglasses with a rounded shape in the center with diamond-like colorful facets and sharply angled edges, the Super Olymp' 1 are a triumphant fusion of shapes. designeyeweargroup.com, Price upon request | 2. BLACKFIN The Crescent Moon's bold square shape stands out with clean, precise lines. With flexible temples, the shape provides a perfect blend of structure and comfort. blackfineu, Price upon request | 3. TOM FORD Beveled edges follow curved brow rims to soften the lines of the geometric FT1155. Tom Ford vintage glamour is reimagined in sunglasses that are both timeless and ageless. mymarcolin.com, Price upon request | 4. SHELTER A round bisected with straight sharp lines inspired by the cliffs and fluid curves of the coastline inspire the namesake of the Amalfi. shelter-manufacture.com, €430 | 5. MOSCOT The Lemtosh's panto is a round shape with a flattened top and keyhole bridge. With over 100 years of heritage, this instantly recognizable and iconic shape's evolution lies with its spectacular cobalt blue photochromic lenses. moscot.com, $420 | 6. ETERNAL BLUE The shape of the Mako transcends conventional geometry with forms melting into one another in a harmonious blend of curves and angles. Corners dissolve into fluid lines creating a shape without a name. eternal-blue.com, $235 | 7. CHAMPION Expanded outer edges taper inwards to the bridge on the CUWANT03, creating distinctive upswept edges that mimic a butterfly's wings. Mother nature is further replicated through an acetate pattern of warm gold and red hues. lamyamerica.com, $99.95 | 8. FFIN A dramatic curved cat eye mounted with round lenses across vertical lines of contrasting acetate is dramatically sliced horizontally to create the Ora, Latin for "edge." ffineyewear.com, $490 | 9. J.F. REY The hexagonal silhouette of the Babette interplays with distinct angles, while the patterned acetate is enhanced by polished metal accents in triangular shapes adding further visual interest to the dynamic and cutting-edge appeal of these sunglasses. frey.fr, $500