Spotlight on Ann Taylor

L'Amey America adds new styles to its Ann Taylor Made Green core and petite collections. Frames are inspired by the brand's modern and stylish designs and color palette, and are constructed with earth-friendly sustainable materials including biodegradable acetate and recyclable stainless steel. Optical style 347 offers a square shape with a dimensional cut-down design and is available in traditional tortoise, soft rose and teal. Sunglass style 926 is defined by its square shape which features an upswept brow line with the front corner featuring triple colorblocking. Petite sunglass style 927 is constructed with deep colored acetates with polished gold temples for a fashionable look.
