L'Amy America

L'Amy America adds new styles to its Nicole Miller collection. The three new ophthalmic frames are inspired by Miller's New York City influences and design sensibilities. Each style is easy-to-wear and features edgy design details. Style Fountain pairs a crisscross pattern at the corners of the brow line with thin colored mosaic temples. With a rounded shape, style Laight was inspired by mixed patterns and textures found in Miller's ready-to-wear collection. Rounding out the new frames is acetate style Gates, which features alternating raised rivets on the top of the frame and four linear rivets on each temple.
